Dear Harold:

Many thanks for your note of January 20.
We have been quietly working on the subject you mention. Everybody has the highest regard for and if we can work out anything, it will be done.

Sincerely,

Dear Allen:

With reference to the chat we had when I saw you in New York. I am enclosing a brief background summary of [redacted] training and experience. I would be glad to have any suggestion you might have with regard to a useful job he could do at the American Fair in Moscow this summer.

With personal regards.

Sincerely and gratefully,

Harold J. Coolidge
